While writing such essays students make connections between texts or ideas, engage in critical thinking, and go beyond mere description or summary. When students reflect on similarities and differences, they gain a deeper understanding of the items they are comparing, their relationship to each other, and what is most important about them. Students have read Twilight and have seen the movie. Always in the book includes: theme, characterization, and impact on readers; analysis of the movie includes theme, characterization, and impact on viewers. The conclusion synthesizes the compare/contrasting of the two. Step 2 – Review the compare and contrast essay the General and the Model of Representation or Statements, pointing out the structure. Ask three students to bring argument as a way for students to organize their thoughts as they begin to write. Declare the importance of thesis and conclusion. The thesis of your compare/contrast paper is very important; it sets the tone of the argument and gives your reader a road map to what you don't get lost in the sea of points you are about to make.
