Mainstreaming Men Into Gender And Development Debates Reflections And Experiences:

Mainstreaming Men Into Gender and Development Sylvia H. Chant, Matthew C. Gutmann, 2000 Based on research commissioned by the World Bank this book's primary focus is on incorporating men in gender and development interventions at the grass roots level. It draws attention to some of the key problems that have arisen from male exclusion as well as to the potential benefits of and obstacles to men's inclusion.

Mainstreaming Gender in Development Fenella Porter, Caroline Sweetman, 2005 Articles discuss how gender mainstreaming has been understood in different organisations provide examples of good work which supports the empowerment of women and look beyond gender mainstreaming to what new possibilities exist for transformation.

Senegal Robin Sharp, 1994 Up to date view of Senegal from the perspective of the poor.

Feminisms in Development Andrea Cornwall, Elizabeth Harrison, Ann Whitehead, 2013-07-04 This collection of essays by leading feminist thinkers from North and South constitutes a major new attempt to reposition feminism within development studies. Feminism's emphasis on social transformation makes it fundamental to development studies. Yet the relationship between the two disciplines has frequently been a troubled one. At present the way in which many development institutions function often undermines feminist intent through bureaucratic structures and unequal power quotients. Moreover the seeming intractability of inequalities and injustice in developing countries have presented feminists with some enormous challenges. Here emphasizing the importance of a plurality of approaches the authors argue for the importance of what feminisms have to say to development. Confronting the enormous challenges for feminisms in development studies this book provides real hope for dialogue and exchange between feminisms and development.

Women and Gender Equity in Development Theory and Practice Jane S. Jaquette, Gale Summerfield, 2006-03-27 Collection of essays on issues of women and development attempting to bridge theory and practice in the post 9/11 era to reflect debates in various realms from the environment land rights and identity to information technology employment and poverty.

Masculinities and

Femininities in Latin America's Uneven Development Susan Paulson, 2015-08-20 This book forges a new approach to historical and geographical change by asking how gender arrangements and dynamics influence the evolution of institutions and environments. This new theoretical approach is applied via mixed methods and a multi scale framework to bring together unusually diverse phenomena. Regional trends demonstrated with quantitative data include the massive incorporation of women into paid work demographic masculinization of the countryside and feminization of cities rapidly increasing gaps that favor women over men in education and life expectancy and extraordinarily high levels of violence against men. Case studies in Mexico Chile and Bolivia explore changes influenced by gender practices and expectations that involve men in different ways than women they also highlight dissimilarities and power relations between differently positioned masculine groups. Ethnographic studies of culturally diverse arrangements together with particular attention to subordinate versus dominant masculinities complicate the gender binaries that circumscribe so much research and policy. Drawing attention to imbalances and conflicts generated by inappropriate models and uneven developments the book points to opportunities for experimenting with and adapting the sociocultural institutions that govern relations among humans and between humans and their environment

International Monetary Fund and the International Labour Organization The book draws upon poststructuralist organisation and policy theory to argue that it is impossible to script reform initiatives such as gender mainstreaming As an alternative it recommends thinking about such policy developments as fields of contestation shaped by on the ground political deliberations and practices including the discursive practices that produce specific ways of understanding the problem of gender inequality In addition to the new chapters the editors Bacchi and Eveline produce brief introductions for each chapter tracing the development of their ideas over four years Through these commentaries the book provides exciting insights into the complex processes of collaboration and theory generation Mainstreaming Politics is a rich resource for both practitioners in the field and for theorists In particular it will appeal to those interested in public policy public administration organisation studies sociology comparative politics and international studies New Frontiers in Feminist Political Economy Shirin Rai, Georgina Waylen, 2013-11-07 This volume brings together the work of outstanding feminist scholars who reflect on the achievements of feminist political economy and the challenges it faces in the 21st century The volume develops further some key areas of research in feminist political economy understanding economies as gendered structures and economic crises as crises in social reproduction as well as in finance and production assessing economic policies through the lens of women's rights analysing global transformations in women's work making visible the unpaid economy in which care is provided for family and communities and critiquing the ways in which policy makers are addressing or failing to address this unpaid economy Masculine Power and Gender Equality: Masculinities as Change Agents Russell Luyt, Kathleen Starck, 2020-03-03 This book explores how political institutions can challenge dominant and normative masculinities guiding thinking instead toward a transformation of gendered power structures and general equality Representing a range of relevant areas the expert chapter authors provide various methodological and theoretical approaches applied to shifting gender meanings in cultural national and social contexts Authors also represent a variety of cultures contributing to the multi perspective debate about how best to achieve gender equality in the real world Among the topics discussed Reimagining masculinities their everyday practice and practical interventions Towards a feminist theory of male rape Political implications of challenging men's everyday practices through domestic violence primary prevention work Men as allies a case study of White Ribbon Australia Masculine Power and Gender Equality Masculinities as Change Agents provides valuable insight into strategies for reimagining male dominated power structures and promoting gender equality African Masculinities L.
