2 Operation

XLP912WEWE and XLP913WEWE are Passive Infra-Red (PIR) movement sensors. When movement is detected, the connected load will switch on for a time period that can be preset by the user.

XLP912WEWE is a 3-wire product and thus requires a neutral. It has a relay output which turns the load on and off without dimming.

XLP913WEWE is a 2-wire product with a solid state output which turns the load on and off gradually over a few seconds.

Both models have adjustments for the following:

1 Time delay (1 second to 16 minutes)

The period of time the load stays on after movement is detected.

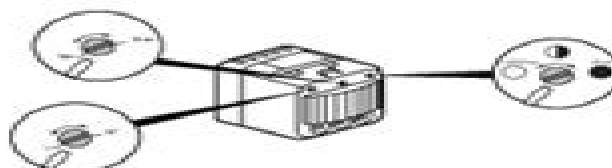

2 Detection range (3 metres to 10 metres)

See range diagrams overleaf.

3 Brightness threshold (3 lux to 1000 lux)

Sensor will only operate if ambient light is below this value. For day time operation use a higher lux setting, and for night operation only use a lower lux setting.

These adjustments are located underneath the front cover.
