The Body as Shadow Eleanor Limmer, 2014-04 The Body is very often the personification of this shadow of the ego Sometimes it forms the skeleton in the cupboard wrote Carl Jung and everybody naturally wants to get rid of such a thing Through the symbolism of illness and physical symptoms our bodies reflect the darkness and the light the shadow holds for us until we are ready to accept it It is the shadow face of our souls that holds the light and the darkness until we are strong enough to face and heal what we have previously denied or rejected about ourselves Our bodies and their ailments are not our enemies and neither are our shadows The shadow reveal the negative ego patterns we had previously rejected or denied through the messages of our illnesses so we can recognize forgive and heal them The shadow is the ally of our true self and the enemy of our negative egos

Evil, Spirits, and Possession David L Bradnick, 2017-08-28 In Evil Spirits and Possession An Emergentist Theology of the Demonic David Bradnick develops a multidisciplinary view of the demonic using biblical theological social scientific and philosophical scientific perspectives Building upon the work of Pentecostal theologian Amos Yong this book argues for a theology informed by emergence theory whereby the demonic arises from evolutionary processes and exerts downward causal influence upon its constituent substrates Consequently evil does not result from conscious diabolic beings rather it manifests as non personal emergent forces that influence humans to initiate and execute nefarious activities Emergentism provides an alternative to contemporary views which tend to minimize or reject the reality of the demonic and it retains the demonic as a viable theological category in the twenty first century

Somatic Psychology Linda Hartley, 2004-08-13 This book brings attention to the interface of psychotherapy and psychological theory with the somatic practices of bodywork and movement therapy To offer a client only psychotherapy or only bodywork may subtly or directly reinforce the body mind split from which so many of us suffer in some cases this will be a reinforcement of a dilemma central to the client's problems Hartley views body psychotherapy and transpersonal psychotherapy as building bridges between the once separated processes of psyche soma and spirit Today the emerging field of somatic psychology is also contributing to the expanded field of psychology a subtle differentiation of bodymind process developed through almost a century and a half of research and practice in somatic therapy and education Originally trained as a dancer movement therapist and bodywork practitioner Hartley continues to use movement and somatic process as an important foundation for her own work Training in Dance Movement Therapy the transpersonal psychotherapy of Psychosynthesis and Process Oriented Psychology have further deepened Hartley's awareness of the relationships between psyche soma and spirit and the need to respond to all levels of experience in therapeutic work

Holistic Education and Embodied Learning John P. Miller, Kelli Nigh, 2017-03-01 Learning often begins with an experience in the body Our body can tighten or feel expansive depending on different learning contexts This experience of learning in the body is crucial to holistic education This book explores embodied learning from several perspectives This first section explores how psychology can inform us about embodied learning for example the work of Carl Jung and Wilhelm Reich devoted much of their thinking to how energy manifests itself in the body Meditation and movement are also examined as ways of embodied learning for example Dalcroze a form of movement education is presented within the context of whole person education The book also presents schools where embodied learning is nurtured Waldorf education is discussed as well as a public school in Toronto where the body is central to holistic education The book also presents visions of embodied learning John Miller presents a holistic vision of teacher education and Tobin Hart who has written extensively in this field writes about the embodied mind

Embodied learning is an emerging area of inquiry in holistic education and this book presents a variety of perspectives and practices that should be helpful to both scholars and practitioners

Jung's Technique of Active Imagination and Desoille's Directed Waking Dream Method Laner Cassar, 2020-06-07 Jung's Technique of Active Imagination and Desoille's Directed Waking Dream Method brings together Carl Jung's active imagination and Robert Desoille's revue veill dirigée directed waking dream method RED. It studies the historical development of these approaches in Central Europe in the first half of the 20th century and explores their theoretical similarities and differences proposing an integrated framework of clinical practice. The book aims to study the wider European context of the 1900s which influenced the development of both Jung's and Desoille's methods. This work compares the spatial metaphors of interiority used by both Jung and Desoille to describe the traditional concept of inner psychic space in the waking dreams of Jung's active imagination and Desoille's RED. It also attempts a broader theoretical comparison between the procedural aspects of both RED and active imagination by identifying commonalities and divergences between the two approaches. This book is a unique contribution to analytical psychology and will be of great interest for academics, researchers and post graduate students interested in the use of imagination and mental imagery in analysis, psychotherapy and counselling. The book's historical focus will be of particular relevance to Jungian and Desoillian scholars since it is the first of its kind to trace the connections between the two schools and it gives a detailed account of Desoille's early life and his first written works. This book was a Grady Award nominee for 2021.

The Hidden Spirituality of Men Matthew Fox, 2010-09-24 It is no secret that men are in trouble today From war to ecological collapse most of the world's critical problems stem from a distorted masculinity out of control Yet our culture rewards the very dysfunctions responsible for those problems To Matthew Fox our crucial task is to open our minds to a deeper understanding of the healthy masculine than we receive from our media culture and religions Popular religion forces the punitive imagery of fundamentalism on us pushing most men away from their natural yearning for spirituality and toward intolerance and domination Meanwhile many men particularly young men are looking for images of healthy masculinity to emulate and finding nothing To awaken what Fox calls the sacred masculine he unearths ten metaphors or archetypes ranging from the Green Man an ancient pagan symbol of our fundamental relationship with nature to the Grandfatherly Heart to the Spiritual Warrior He explores archetypes of sacred marriage showing how partnership becomes the ultimate expression of healthy masculinity By stirring our natural yearning for healthy spirituality Fox argues these timeless archetypes can inspire men to pursue their higher calling to reinvent the world
