Move the setting of the story by changing the time and the place. Explain how this would change the novel. Give examples from the story.

As this novel takes place in a traditional medieval setting, using this information I would move the setting of the story to the Ancient times. The location of this story would take place in Egypt, when there were pharaohs and mummies. This would completely change the titles of the character as that King would be called a Pharaoh. Not only those, but also the Egyptians used to marry at a quite young age, and didn't throw balls.

Which one of the characters would make a good friend? Explain why you would pick them as a good friend. Give specific examples from the story.

A character from this book that would make a good friend is a 10- or 11-year-old castle servant girl name Mary. She would make a good friend because she is always there for anyone either is they know her or not, she is loyal and truthful, and reliable. When Lord Reston fell ill during Ella's history lesson, Mary was the first to run for help. friends and Mary assists Ella in escaping the castle. Mary is a very loyal friend because she always told Ella the truth, except the time when she was asked about her father's death. Mary states that he was killed in a tournament, but in reality he was beheaded for having an affair with the queen. Mary is somewhat insecure, as she feels that she is not pretty. When Ella declined the marriage offer to Prince Charming.....

Write a letter to the author explaining your thoughts about the novel. What you liked, what you did not like and how you connected to the characters in the novel.

Dear, Margaret Peterson Haddix,

I wanted to tell you about the book Just Ella, published in 2008. It was a fascinating novel with different situations. I loved how you twisted the actual fairy tale, from being just a happily ever after. Also it was creative how the story offered a perspective of the future of the original tale.
