Independent Evaluation Office, 2017-10-05 This paper analyzes that the IMF has moved beyond its traditional fiscal centric approach to recognize that social protection can also be macro critical for broader reasons including social and political stability concerns Evaluating the IMF s involvement in social protection is complicated by the fact that there is no standard definition of social protection or of broader overlapping terms such as social spending and social safeguards in or outside the IMF In this evaluation social protection is understood to include policies that provide benefits to vulnerable individuals or households This evaluation found widespread IMF involvement in social protection across countries although the extent of engagement varied In some cases engagement was relatively deep spanning different activities bilateral surveillance technical assistance and or programs and involving detailed analysis of distributional impacts discussion of policy options active advocacy of social protection and integration of social protection measures in program design and or conditionality This cross country variation to some degree reflected an appropriate response to country specific factors in particular an assessment of whether social protection policy was macrocritical and the availability of expertise from development partners or in the country itself

Recurring Issues from a Decade of Evaluation International Monetary Fund. Independent Evaluation Office,2014-08-21 This report seeks to help the IMF enhance its effectiveness by identifying major recurring issues from the IEO s first 20 evaluations and assessing where they stand The IMF s core areas of responsibility are surveillance lending and capacity development The aim of this report is to strengthen the follow up process by focusing on key issues that recurred in IEO evaluations rather than on specific recommendations on their implementation The IEO believes that a framework of reviewing and monitoring recurring issues would be useful in establishing incentives for progress strengthening the Board s oversight and providing learning opportunities for the IMF

Periodic Monitoring Report on the Status of Board-Endorsed Independent Evaluation Office Recommendations and Management Implementation Plans International Monetary Fund,2007-03-12 IEO evaluations are an integral part of the Fund s learning culture helping the Fund absorb lessons that improve its work In addition the objectivity of IEO evaluations has bolstered the Fund s credibility In discussing the report of the External Evaluation of the IEO the Lissakers report Executive Directors welcomed the suggestions to strengthen follow up to the IEO recommendations including more Board involvement and supported a more systematic approach for following up and monitoring the implementation of IEO recommendations approved by the Board. This periodic monitoring report (PMR) is the first such effort under the new procedures approved by the Executive Board in January 2007. In particular, it responds to the instruction that Management shall present to the Board a periodic monitoring report on the state of implementation of actions contained in the forward-looking implementation plans already in force and not deemed completed on the occasion of a prior periodic monitoring report. These reports shall indicate difficulties in implementing the original plan and propose remedial or substitute actions whenever appropriate. The first periodic monitoring report shall be prepared following the delivery of the 2007 IEO Annual Report. As the IEO Annual Reports cover the status of all past IEO recommendations, it is expected that the first periodic monitoring report produced by Management would also review the implementation of recommendations made to date.
