Yashni Deposed

In what happened during the time of the Achaemenes, the Persians who ruled over a vast empire stretching from India to Greece. At that time King Xerxes reigned in Persia. He was enthroned in the citadel of Susa, the capital of Persia. In the first year of his reign he gave a banquet for all the nobles and officials. The military leaders of Persia and Media, the governors, and the heads of the provinces were present.

For a full six days he displayed the vast wealth of his kingdom and the splendor and glory of his property. When the feasts were over, the king gave a banquet for seven days in the enclosed garden of the king's palace. For all the people from the Susa to the farthest, who were in the citadel of Susa. The garden had hangings of white and blue linen, fastened with cords of white linen and purple material to silver rings on marble pillars. There were couches of gold and silver on a mosaic pavement of porphyry, marble, mother-of-pearl and other costly stones. The king and the queen had special access to the king and were the highest in the kingdom.

"According to law, what must I do to Queen Yashni?" he asked. "She has not obeyed the command of King Xerxes that the eunuchs have taken to her."

"Then Menekan replied in the presence of the king and the nobles. "Queen Yashni has done wrong, not only against the king but also against all the nobles and the people of all the provinces of Persia and Media."

"For the queen's sake," he said, "they will be brought before the king and the queen will become known to all the people of the kingdom."

"The king," he said, "will be brought before him, but the queen will not come." "This very day the Medes and Persians of the nobility heard about the queen's command. They spread to all the king's nobles and officials. There will be no end of discord and confusion."

"Therefore, if it pleases the king, let him issue a royal decree and let it be written in the laws of Persia and Media, which

Devotional Discipleship Dale E. Hickey, 2012-07-25

At the end of each devotional is a brief review, and at the end of the book is an opportunity to dig deeper into God's Word. The reader and the disciple will be able to reflect on a key concept and re-examine the Scripture text together. This is an ideal time to work with another person or in small group to follow up and develop meaningful discipleship relationships.

Sermons: Courageous Women In the Bible Otis Clayton, 2024-01-16

This is a book of sermons about several courageous women in the Bible which I have identified from the Old and New Testament scriptures. I developed or created these sermons because of the bold example from my mother, Elizabeth Murphy Clayton. As a single parent, this courageous woman raised nine children: five sons and four daughters. Her five sons all served honorably in the United States Armed Forces. Furthermore, these sermons about female biblical characters reflect my mother's personality. While I created sermons about Deborah, Esther, Rahab, Ruth, and Hannah as five courageous women of the Old Testament, I also developed five homilies about five women in the New Testament. These brave women are: 1. Mary the Mother of Jesus, 2. Mary Magdalene, 3. Mary of Bethany, 4. Priscilla, and 5. Lydia in the New Testament. These sermons are essentially a male perspective about women who continue to serve as valuable and impeccable role models for how women today, especially African American women, can serve as courageous examples to achieve excellence in various fields of endeavor. The content provided here falls primarily into homiletic womanist studies.

with some relevance to African American philosophy religion cultural studies etc
