Communicating Identities Gary Barkhuizen, Pat Strauss, 2020-02-20 Communicating Identities is a book for language teachers who wish to focus on the topic of identity in the context of their classroom teaching The work provides an accessible introduction to research and theory on language learner and language teacher identity It provides a set of interactive practical activities for use in language classrooms in which students explore and communicate about aspects of their identities The communicative activities concern the various facets of the students own identities and are practical resources that teachers can draw on to structure and guide their students exploration of their identities All the activities include a follow on teacher reflection in which teachers explore aspects of their own identity in relation to the learner identities explored in the activities The book also introduces teachers to practical steps in doing exploratory action research so that they can investigate identity systematically in their own classrooms

Identity Revisited and Reimagined Sangeeta Bagga-Gupta, Aase Lyngvør Hansen, Julie Feilberg, 2017-07-06 In contrast to other studies on identity this book takes its point of departure in the complexities that characterize and shape both individuals and societies past and present Its chapters challenge demarcated fields of study and conceptions of identity as gender identity as functional disability identity as race and identity as or based upon language groupings The contributions take a social practices perspective in their exploration of the performance living and doing of identity positions across time and space Many of the contributions take an intersectional stance and the majority report upon empirically driven studies that examine the ways in which micro level analyses of naturally occurring human communication contribute to our understanding of identification processes Specifically they study the ways in which more recent dialogical and social theoretical analytical frameworks allow for attending to the complexity and dynamics of identity processes the ways in which institutional settings media settings community of practices and affinity spaces provide affordances and obstacles for different types of identity positions and the ways in which shifts in identity positions can be traced across time and space
