A. Denton, 2021-03-01 The Landscape of Historical Memory explores the place of museums and memorial culture in the contestation over historical memory in post martial law Taiwan. The book is particularly oriented toward the role of politics especially political parties in the establishment administration architectural design and historical narratives of museums. It is framed around the wrangling between the blue camp the Nationalist Party or KMT and its supporters and the green camp Democratic Progressive Party or DPP and its supporters over what facets of the past should be remembered and how they should be displayed in museums. Organized into chapters focused on particular types of museums and memorial spaces such as archaeology museums history museums martyrs shrines war museums memorial halls literature museums ethnology museums and ecomuseums the book presents a broad overview of the state of museums in Taiwan in the past three decades. The case of Taiwan museums tells us much about Cold War politics and its legacy in East Asia the role of culture history and memory in shaping identities in the postcolonial landscape of Taiwan the politics of historical memory in an emergent democracy especially in counterpoint to the politics of museums in the People's Republic of China which continues to be an authoritarian single party state and the place of museums in a neoliberal economic climate. This book offers unique insight into the configurations of international museum culture as manifested in the sociopolitical landscape of post martial law Taiwan. Using case studies filled with telling details Denton analyzes how museums both reflect and initiate cultural change. This work adds substantially to Taiwan studies and museology with in depth scholarship and innovative observations presented in a clear and compelling narrative. Performative Approaches to Education Reforms Dorthe Staunæs, Katja Brøgger, John Benedicto Krejsler, 2020-05-21

The purpose of this book is to investigate with conceptualization how reforms change educational organizations and subjectivities and how educational organizations change reforms. The book gives an account of the power of conceptual endeavors with close readings of empirical material. The book elaborates this through empirical investigations of the intertwinement of different educational reforms of policies standards and everyday educational lives across the globe. As well as telling stories of reforms and how they transform and are transformed by the educational organizations and subjects they engage the book highlights how a careful enactment of methodologies and critiques might enable a tracing of not only intended but also unintended effects of reforms. In this way the book explores performative approaches to education reform and thus attempts to nuance the idea of causality and linearity in the implementation of education reforms. Engaging with performative approaches this book scrutinizes how reforms are involved with the creation and shaping of the world and thus offers insight into what happens when reforms are borrowed translated and taken up in a range of ways. problems he discovered with it Narratives of Storytelling across Cultures Tony R. DeMars, Gabriel B. Tait, 2019-09-18

Narratives of Storytelling Across Cultures demonstrates how meaning found within interpersonal communication is not universal across all cultures. Miscommunication can occur when the foundations of cultural meaning within stories as told socially and within media vary among different cultures. Positioned within the communication and media field, this book connects issues of societal tension and political battles to media portrayals, social communication events, and power dynamics that result when people with different meanings systems attempt to negotiate truth among their competing narratives. After establishing the theoretical foundation of the book, contributors provide specific case studies that demonstrate underlying cultural components and complexities that lead to these issues. Tony R. DeMars and Gabriel Tait have assembled contributors with research experience and understanding of intercultural communication challenges in different social groups, allowing the book to take on a broader scope of intercultural communication. Scholars of communication, conflict resolution, political science, sociology, and media studies will find this book particularly useful.
