Metalinguage of Translation Yves Gambier, Luc van Doorslaer, 2009 Let the meta discussion begin James Holmes urged in 1972 Coming almost forty years later years filled with fascinating and often unexpected developments in the interdiscipline of Translation Studies this volume offers the reader a multiplicity of meta perspectives while also moving the discussion forward Indeed the re production and re use of metalinguistic metaphors frame and partly determine our views on research so such a discussion is vital as it is in any scholarly discipline Among other questions the eleven contributors draw the reader's attention to the often puzzling variations of usage and conceptualization in both the theory and the practice of translation First published as a special issue of Target 19 2 2007 the volume runs the gamut of metalinguistic topics ranging from terminology localization and epistemological questions through the Chinese perspective to the conceptual mapping of the online Translation Studies Bibliography Discourse and Human Rights Violations Christine Anthonissen, Jan Blommaert, 2007-01-01 First published as a Special Issue of the Journal of Language and Politics 5 1 2006 this collection of papers focuses from a number of different disciplinary perspectives on aspects of language and communication in official processes of dealing with traumatic pasts It is a text that belongs to the genre of talking about pain about state violence about uncovering suppressed truths Linguists and a number of other social scientists investigate discourses mostly ones generated during hearings of the South African Truth and Reconciliation Commission TRC scrutinizing them for how trauma is articulated and sometimes overcome for how confrontational discourses are publicly managed for how after gross human rights violations reconciliation can be mediated Language is viewed as an instrument of confronting a traumatic past of negotiating conflict and of initiating processes of healing for individuals as well as in communities Patterns, Meaningful Units and Specialized Discourses Ute Römer, Rainer Schulze, 2010 This collection of papers explores some facets in the areas of Corpus Linguistics and Phraseology which have gone unnoticed so far With the aid of a range of different corpora and new generation software tools the authors tackle specialized domains and discourse in specialized settings utilizing some innovative approaches to the study of recurrent features and patterns in the languages of economics history linguistics politics and other fields The papers critically examine contemporary discourses in which experts and laypersons are equally involved showing that the spoken and written texts selected from various specialized corpora can be seen as collective memory banks The series of reflections and specialized meanings uncovered in these texts are closely tied to particular sequences of patterned chunks in language and offer exciting insights into the inseparability of lexis and grammar The contributions to this volume were previously published in International Journal of Corpus Linguistics 13 3 2008 The Pragmatics of Making it Explicit Pirmin Stekeler-Weithofer, 2008-10-29 Robert Brandom's Making it Explicit 1994 marks a Copernican turn in the philosophy of mind and language as this collection of critical essays together with Brandom's enlightening answers convincingly shows. Though faithful to Wittgenstein's pragmatic turn in spirit, Brandom gives a systematic account of human sapience as a whole by grounding our relation to the world by words on our discursive practice, assessing its normative basis which is instituted by scorekeeping activities and sanctioning attitudes and thus trying to avoid mystifying mentalism as well as dogmatic naturalism in our account of the human spirit. The topics emphasized in this volume concern the place of Brandom's inferentialist and normative semantics in 20th century philosophy of language, Frege, Carnap, Quine also in comparison to cognitive linguistics, Chomsky, instrumentalist pragmatism and functionalist understanding of the use of signs, Sellars' deflation of intentionality, Brentano, the logical analysis of predicative structures, Kant, the role of constructions for understanding the constitution of objectivity by de re ascriptions and the problem of anti-representationalism or how to treat malapropisms, Davidson. This volume was originally published as a Special Issue of Pragmatics & Cognition 13.1 2005.

The Soft Power of War Lilie Chouliaraki, 2007-06-05 This book which was originally published as a Special Issue of Journal of Language Politics 4.1 2005 takes the war in Iraq as an exemplary case through which to demonstrate the changing nature of contemporary power. The book convincingly argues that the effective study of international politics depends today upon our understanding of the interplay between hard military, economic and soft symbolic power. One might say between the politics of territory, guns or money and the language of narrating the world in coherent and persuasive stories. Bringing together different strands of discourse analysis with social, historical and to an extent political analysis, all contributions seek to illustrate the ways in which a variety of public genres from political speeches to computer games and from educational material to newspaper reports produce influential knowledge about the war and shape the ethical and political premises upon which the legitimacy of this war and a vision of the emergent world order rests.

Healthcare Interpreting Explained Claudia Angelelli, 2019-05-16 Healthcare Interpreting Explained is the first comprehensive user-friendly book on the practice of medical healthcare interpreting. Written by a leading world authority and drawing on research carried out in Europe, the United States, Australia and Asia, this process-focused text goes beyond terms and concepts to cover medical discourse, ethics and protocol, professionalization, cognitive factors, problem-solving strategies, assessment and more. Including summaries, tasks, further reading and a range of real-world examples as well as audio files on the Translation Studies Portal, this is the essential text for all students and practicing interpreters in the areas of medical and healthcare interpreting.

Words, Grammar, Text Rosamund Moon, 2009 John Sinclair's work is widely known and has had a far-reaching influence, particularly in the areas of corpus linguistics, lexis, phraseology, lexicography, grammar and discourse analysis. This collection of papers written by former colleagues at Birmingham University looks at some key writings by John Sinclair with the intention of showing why his ideas are of lasting significance. Contributions deal with the Cobuild Project.

directed by Sinclair and its innovative first dictionary collocation and the Open Choice and Idiom Principles the interactions between and interdependence of phraseology and grammar semantic prosody and the construction of meaning in text This volume was originally published as a Special Issue of International Journal of Corpus Linguistics 12 2 2007 Cognitive Technologies and the Pragmatics of Cognition Itiel E. Dror, 2007-08-23 Technology has long been a helpful aid in human cognitive activities With its growing sophistication and usage technology is now taking a more intrinsic and active role in human cognition The shift from an external aid to being an internal component of cognitive processing reflects a revolution in technology cognition and their interaction The creation of such cognitive technologies transforms the traditional instrumental function of technology to a constitutive role that shapes and defines cognition itself This book which was originally published as a Special Issue of Pragmatics Cognition 13 3 2005 explores the new horizon of these cognitive technologies and their interactions with humans

Doing Justice to Court Interpreting Miriam Shlesinger, Franz Pöchhacker, 2010 First published as a Special Issue of Interpreting 10 1 2008 and complemented with two articles published in Interpreting 12 1 2010 this volume provides a panoramic view of the complex and uniquely constrained practice of court interpreting In an array of empirical papers the nine authors explore the potential of court interpreters to make or break the proceedings from the perspectives of the minority language speaker and of the other participants The volume offers thoughtful overviews of the tensions and conflicts typically associated with the practice of court interpreting It looks at the attitudes of judicial authorities towards interpreting and of interpreters towards the concept of a code of ethics With further themes such as the interplay of different groups of linguists at the Tokyo War Crimes Tribunal and the language rights of indigenous communities it opens novel perspectives on the study of interpreting at the interface between the letter of the law and its implementation

Entwicklungslinien der Translationswissenschaft Erich Prunč, 2012 Die Entwicklungslinien bieten die erste deutschsprachige bersicht zur Translations wissenschaft die in ihrer gesamten Vielfalt und komplexen Breite als eine eigenständige Disziplin vorgestellt wird Dazu greift die Darstellung auch in die jeweiligen wissenschaftshistorischen Kontexte aus sie verknüpft die Spannbreite der einzelnen Modelle und Strömungen von den kontrastiv linguistischen Anfängen bis hin zur modernen Translationssoziologie und Translationsethik zu einem ganzheitlichen Konzept Die Ausführungen sind bewusst leserfreundlich angelegt was gewährleistet das Buch in zwei sich speziel ergnenden Weisen zu nutzen zum einen empfiehlt es sich als ein Einführungsangebot für Studienanfänger und Neueinsteiger in die Thematik zum anderen wird der Wunsch nach Vertiefung und breitem Ausbau von bereits vorhandenem Wissen erfüllt

Probing Semantic Relations Alain Auger, Caroline Barrière, 2010 Semantic relations are at the core of any representational system and are keys to enable the next generation of information processing systems with semantic and reasoning capabilities Acquisition description and formalization of semantic relations are fundamentals in computer based systems where natural language processing is required Probing Semantic Relations provides a state of the art of current research trends in the area of knowledge extraction from text using linguistic patterns First published as a Special Issue of Terminology 14 1 2008 the current book emphasizes how definitional knowledge is conveyed by conceptual and semantic relations such as synonymy causality hypernymy generic specific and meronymy part whole Showing the difficulties and successes of pattern based approaches the book illustrates current and future challenges in knowledge acquisition from text This book provides new perspectives to researchers and practitioners in terminology knowledge engineering natural language processing and semantics

Lexicography Wolfgang Teubert, 2007-06-27 The contributions in this volume first published as a Special Issue of International Journal of Corpus Linguistics 6 2001 evolved from the EU funded project Trans European Language Resources Infrastructure TELRI and deal with various aspects of multilingual corpus linguistics The topics reach from building parallel corpora over annotation issues and questions concerning terminology extraction to bilingual and multilingual lexicography the statistical properties of parallel corpora and the practice of translators and the role of corpus linguistics for multilingual language technology Cognition Distributed Itiel E. Dror, Stevan R. Harnad, 2008 Our species has been a maker and user of tools for over two million years but cognitive technology began with language Cognition is thinking and thinking has been distributed for at least the two hundred millennia that we have been using speech to interact and collaborate allowing us to do collectively far more than any of us could have done individually The invention of writing six millennia ago and print six centuries ago has distributed cognition still more widely and quickly among people as well as their texts But in recent decades something radically new has been happening Advanced cognitive technologies especially computers and the Worldwide Web are beginning to redistribute cognition in unprecedented ways not only among people and static texts but among people and dynamical machines This not only makes possible new forms of human collaboration but new forms of cognition This book examines the nature and prospects of distributed cognition providing a conceptual framework for understanding it and showcasing case studies of its development This volume was originally published as a Special Issue of Pragmatics Cognition 14 2 2006 Translation and Music Sebnem Susam-Sarajeva, 2016-04-08 Popular and multimodal forms of cultural products are becoming increasingly visible within translation studies research Interest in translation and music however has so far been relatively limited mainly because translation of musical material has been considered somewhat outside the limits of translation studies as traditionally conceived Difficulties associated with issues such as the musicality of lyrics the fuzzy boundaries between translation adaptation and rewriting and the pervasiveness of covert or unacknowledged translations of musical elements in a variety of settings have generally limited the research in this area to overt and canonized translations such as those done for the opera Yet the intersection of translation and music can be a fascinating field to explore and one which can enrich our understanding of what translation is and how it relates to other forms of expression This special issue is an attempt to open up the field of translation and music to a wider audience within translation studies and to an extent within musicology and cultural studies The volume includes contributions from a wide range of musical genres and languages from those that investigate translation and code switching in North African rap and rai and the intertextual and intersemiotic translations revolving around Mahler's lieder in Chinese to the appropriation and after life of Kurdish folk songs in Turkish and the emergence of rock n roll in Russian Other papers examine the reception of Anglo American stage musicals and musical films in Italy and Spain the concept of singability with examples from Scandinavian languages and the French dubbing of musical episodes of TV series The volume also offers an annotated bibliography on opera translation and a general bibliography on translation and music

Linking up with Video Heidi Salaets, Geert Brône, 2020-01-15 This volume is intended as an innovating reader for both interpreting practitioners as well as scholars engaging with the multifaceted question addressed in the title Why linking up with video The chapters in this volume deal with this question from different perspectives On the one hand the volume continues the ongoing discussion on the pros and cons of video based interaction for the interpreting profession exploring the implications and applications when interpreters and their clients link up through video technology On the other hand the chapters also explore the potential of video technology for research on interpreting hence raising the question in which way high quality video recordings of interpreters in the booth participants involved in interpreter mediated talk etc may be instrumental in gaining new insights In this sense the volume strongly ties in with the fast growing field of multimodal interaction studies which makes use of video recordings to study the relationship between verbal and nonverbal resources such as gestures postural orientation gaze and head movements in the construction of meaning in communication
