

Science

Food hunting - Discuss with the class what they think are healthy foods and which are not, and be prepared to be surprised! Handout the children a range of different healthy foods and have a hunting session. What can you include with natural foods for the children to describe the colour, taste and smell.

What counts as my five a day? Use the handout to look at what counts as one of your five a day.

Give the child an a selection of foods in groups and get them to categorise them into what fits one of your five a day and place them one of your five a day! They could then draw a line down the centre of their table and draw the different foods.

Food groups and portion sizes - Look at the different groups of food on the table. Give the children a selection of foods and get them to sort them into the food groups. The handout could be used for looking at different food groups.

Look at the different proportions with the help of the portion and volume handout.

Handout also fits with work on the natural colour of foods by looking at packaging and comparing the label.

English

Descriptive writing - Looking to colour and food hunting get the children to describe the different healthy foods they have sorted. Get them to describe the taste, texture, smell, feel and look. Adjectives are key when it comes to describing the food so get them using adjectives to help them with their descriptions.

For the children to describe their own the help of their different eating habits.

Spelling - Use the spelling sheet to get the children to practice their spelling and to describe their healthy eating habits.

Recipe writing - Give the children to think of their food as real and research how to make it. If they do not already know. Then get them to write a recipe in the form of a recipe. If they are older pupils, you could check that they are following their own making the food.

What I eat - These templates help encourage your children to reflect on what they eat and whether or not it is good for their health whilst also being a great writing activity. The first page also helps to look about the foods they eat, and the second makes them compare a healthy diet with their own.

PSHE

Discuss as a class why we need to eat healthy. Discuss what things you need to eat and drink. Make sure you talk about the fact that you can eat delicious things that are full of nutrients and that they should be a treat. You could also talk healthy eating with healthy living and what other things we need to do to keep fit and healthy.

These pages are great to have around the classroom to remind children what they need to do to keep fit and healthy.

The Food Facts is also useful for discussing what things you can do to eat fit and healthy.

History and Geography

Look at what foods people eat in other countries such as America, South Africa, India, China and France. Do some research to find out what foods are associated with each country and look at how healthy they are.

Look at the history of eating healthy and the impact of not getting enough exercise and nutrition. Look at eating and habits, which could prove a bit of a challenge, and how it was different with all those years ago.
