Manual Istorie Clasa A 7 A:

Europe in the Classroom Simona Szakács, 2017-10-13 This book provides an unconventional account of post 1989 education reform in Romania By drawing on policy documentation interviews with key players qualitative data from everyday school contexts and extensive textbook analysis this groundbreaking study explores change within the Romanian education system as a process that institutionalises world culture through symbolic mediation of the concept Europe The book argues that the education system s structural and organisational evolution through time is decoupled from its self depiction by ultimately serving a nation building agenda It does so despite notable changes in the discourse reflecting increasingly transnational definitions of the mission of the school in the post 1989 era The book also suggests that the notions of nation and citizen institutionalised by the school are gradually being redefined as cosmopolitan matching post war patterns of post national affiliations on a worldwide level

Holocaust Public Memory in Postcommunist Romania Alexandru Florian, 2018-01-24 An excellent analysis of the slow but steady evolution of Romania from heavy Holocaust denial toward a fair confrontation of its tragic past Radu Ioanid author of The Holocaust in Romania How is the Holocaust remembered in Romania since the fall of communism Alexandru Florian and an international group of contributors unveil how and why Romania a place where large segments of the Jewish and Roma populations perished still fails to address its recent past These essays focus on the roles of government and public actors that choose to promote construct defend or contest the memory of the Holocaust as well as the tools the press the media monuments and commemorations that create public memory Coming from a variety of perspectives these essays provide a compelling view of what memories exist how they are sustained how they can be distorted and how public remembrance of the Holocaust can be encouraged in Romanian society today While positive changes have taken place a large gap exists between the historical facts and public knowledge about Romania and the Holocaust This volume offers a fresh and nuanced understanding of the contemporary battles of memory in postcommunist Eastern Europe Diana Dumitru author of The State Antisemitism and Collaboration in the Holocaust An excellent and timely addition to European historiography The book consists of eight chapters most of them written by scholars affiliated with the Elie Wiesel Institute It not only shows the challenges faced in remembering Romania s involvement in the Holocaust but provides an excellent comparative analysis with other countries in the region Reading Religion Xenopoliana , 1995

Balkan Identities Maria Todorova, 2004-04 Balkan Identities brings together historians anthropologists and literary scholars all working under the shared conviction that the only way to overcome history is to intimately understand it The contributors of Balkan Identities focus on historical memory collective national memory and the political manipulation of national identities They refine our understanding of memory and identity in general and explore and assess the significance of particular manifestations of Balkan national identities and national memories in the region The essays in Balkan Identities grapple with three major problems the construction of historical memory sites of national memory and the mobilization of national identities While most essays focus on a single country e g Croatia Romania Turkey Cyprus Albania Serbia Bulgaria Greece Macedonia they are in dialogue with each other and share an opposition to rigid isolationist identities Illuminating and challenging Balkan Identities demonstrates the ever changing nature of a troubled and culturally vibrant region Istoricii și științi istorică din România Robert Deutsch,1970 Bibliography of materials published between 1944 and 1969 Non-Inclusive Education in Central and Eastern Europe Katarzyna Górak-Sosnowska,Urszula Markowska-Manista,2022-11-03 This book presents research into inclusive education in Central and Eastern Europe CEE written by scholars based in CEE Inclusive education has become a framework for understanding and embracing diversity but most of the research in this area has been carried out in intercultural or culturally diverse settings within a relatively inclusive and open framework of democratic liberal and multicultural Western societies Unlike many Western societies the realities of CEE countries are often much less diverse and connected with different fragile historical and political processes which puts tackling sensitive topics in a different context The editors and contributors address the dominant Western ways of looking at inclusive and global education in CEE They argue that Western leveraged pedagogy has been imposed on CEE and outline the context specific problems of teaching global education in CEE Collectively the chapters offer critical responses to the issues of exclusion and exclusionary practices of silenced minorities in CEE Written by academics based in Czech Republic Germany Hungary Poland Romania and Russia the book cover topics including Roma genocide in Poland teaching about Islam and teaching about LGBTQ issues The book includes a preface written by Jacqueline Bhabha Professor of the Practice of Health and Human Rights at Harvard University USA Rome and Barbaricum: Contributions to the Archaeology and History of Interaction in European Protohistory Roxana-Gabriela Curcă,Alexander Rubel,Robin P. Symonds,Hans-Ulrich Voß,2020-05-28 How did the Barbarians influence Roman culture What did Roman ness mean in the context of Empire What did it mean to be Roman and or Barbarian in different contexts 9 papers explore concepts of Romanisation and of Barbaricum from a multi disciplinary and comparative standpoint covering Germania Dacia Moesia Inferior Hispania and more Istoria din ghiozdan Mirela-Luminița Murgescu,2004 Anuarul cărții din Republica Populară Română Bucharest (Romania). Selective Remembrances Philip L. Kohl,Mara Kozelsky,Nachman Ben-Yehuda,2008-11-15 When political geography changes how do reorganized or newly formed states justify their rule and create a sense of shared history for their people Often the essays in Selective Remembrances reveal they turn to archaeology employing the field and its findings to develop nationalistic feelings and forge legitimate distinctive national identities Examining such relatively new or reconfigured nation states as Iran Iraq Turkey Israel Russia Ukraine India and Thailand Selective Remembrances shows how states invoke the remote past to extol the glories of specific peoples or prove claims to ancestral homelands Religion has long played a key role in such efforts and the contributors take care to demonstrate the tendency of many people including archaeologists themselves to view the world through a religious lens which can be exploited by new regimes to suppress objective study of the past and justify contemporary political actions The wide geographic and intellectual range of the essays in Selective Remembrances will make it a seminal text for archaeologists and historians

Exploring Prehistoric Identity in Europe Victoria Ginn, Rebecca Enlander, Rebecca Crozier, 2014-03-19 Identity is relational and a construct and is expressed in a myriad of ways For example material culture and its pluralist meanings have been readily manipulated by humans in a prehistoric context in order to construct personal and group identities Artefacts were often from or reminiscent of far flung places and were used to demonstrate membership of an imagined regional or European community Earthworks frequently archive maximum visual impact through elaborate ramparts and entrances with the minimum amount of effort indicating that the construction of identities were as much in the eye of the perceiver as of the perceived Variations in domestic architectural style also demonstrate the malleability of identity and the prolonged intermittent use of particular places for specific functions indicates that the identity of place is just as important in our archaeological understanding as the identity of people By using a wide range of case studies both temporally and spatially these thought processes may be explored further and diachronic and geographic patterns in expressions of identity investigated
