The Dutch in the Early Modern World David Onnekink, Gijs Rommelse, 2019-06-06 Presents an overview of early modern Dutch history in global context focusing on themes that resonate with current concerns Kooplieden, predikanten en bestuurders overzee Jurrien van Goor, 1982 Studie over de relatie tussen Nederlanders en autochtonen in de verschillende Nederlandse koloniën Encounters on the Opposite Coast: The Dutch East India Company and the Nayaka State of Madurai in the Seventeenth Century Markus Vink, 2015-10-14 In Encounters of the Opposite Coast Markus Vink provides a narrative of the first half century of cross cultural interaction between the Dutch East India Company VOC one of the great northern European chartered companies and Madurai one of the great southern Nayakas and successor states of the Vijayanagara empire in southeast India c 1645 1690 A shared interest in trade and at times converging political objectives formed the unstable foundations for a complex relationship fraught with tensions a mixture of conflict and coexistence typical of the age of contained conflict Drawing extensively on archival materials Markus Vink covers a topic neglected by both Company historians and their Indian counterparts and sheds important light on a black hole in South Indian history Historiography of Europeans in Africa and Asia, 1450-1800 Anthony Disney, 2019-07-25 The first part of this volume deals with the changes and continuities in historical approaches over the last fifty years with three further sections focusing on initial contacts formal presences and informal presences Emphasis has been placed on the major European players in Asia and Africa before 1800 the Portuguese Dutch and English without neglecting the role played by the French Spanish Scandinavians and others Dutch Scholarship in the Age of Empire and Beyond Maarten Kuitenbrouwer, 2013-11-21 How was the Royal Netherlands Institute of Southeast Asian and Caribbean Studies KITLV which at its inception in 1851 had fewer than a hundred members and only one part time employee able to flourish to become around the turn of the twenty first century a modern professional institute with 1 800 members with a staff of more than fifty employees The Institute was founded with support from the highest political and official circles to gather scholarly information about the Dutch colonies in the East and West not least to undergird colonial policy KITLV played an important role in this backed by the Ministry of Colonies and the business world The Japanese occupation and decolonization led to a difficult process of adjustment for KITLV which was concluded successfully With its unique collections publications research and its office in Indonesia and involvement in the Caribbean the Institute has an international reputation This book is more than a report on 160 years of KITLV history It is also a history of scholarly practice about the former colonies These activities and especially the publications of the institute and its prominent members are measured against key terms such as orientalism and imperialism universalism and relativism Dutch and British Colonial Intervention in Sri Lanka, 1780-1815 Alicia Schrikker, 2007 This study of Dutch and British colonial intervention on Sri Lanka in the period 1780 1815 provides a new over all characterisation of the functioning and growth of the colonial state in a period of transition Johannes Hoornbeeck (1617-1666), On the Conversion of Indians and Heathens Ineke Loots, Joke Spaans, Johannes Hoornbeeck, 2018-11-12 Exploration trade and conquest expanded and upset traditional worldviews of early modern Europeans. Christians saw themselves confronted with a largely heathen world. In the wake of Iberian colonization, Jesuits successfully christianized heathen populations overseas. In his De conversione Indorum et gentilium, Johannes Hoornbeeck presents a systematic overview of every aspect of the missionary imperative from a Reformed Protestant perspective. The most attractive part of his book may be the global survey it offers of the various types of heathens, an early example of comparative religion. Of equal interest, however, is his critical approach to mission. Hoornbeeck rejects ecclesiastical hierarchy and top-down imposition of Christianity. In this, he is perfectly orthodox and at the same time startlingly original and a harbinger of modern missions. His practical recommendations offer a flexible framework for missionaries to fit a wide variety of circumstances.

Ethnography and Encounter Guido van Meersbergen, 2021-10-18 The global operations of the East India Companies were profoundly shaped by European perceptions of foreign lands. Providing a cultural perspective absent from existing economic and institutional histories, Ethnography and Encounter is the first book to systematically explore how Company agents' understandings of and attitudes towards Asian peoples and societies informed institutional approaches to trade, diplomacy, and colonial governance. Its fine-grained comparisons of Dutch and English activities in seventeenth-century South Asia show how corporate ethnography was produced, how it underpinned given modes of conduct, and how it illuminates connections across space and time. Ethnography and Encounter identifies deep commonalities between Dutch and English discourses and practices, their indebtedness to pan-European ethnographic traditions, and their centrality to wider histories of European expansion.

Global Calvinism Charles H. Parker, 2022-01-01 A comprehensive study of the connection between Calvinist missions and Dutch imperial expansion during the early modern period. A tour de force offering the reader the best study of global Calvinism in the realms of the Dutch East India Company. Ronnie Po Chia Hsia, editor. Calvinism and Religious Toleration in the Dutch Golden Age. Calvinism went global in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries as close to a thousand Dutch Reformed ministers, along with hundreds of lay chaplains, attached themselves to the Dutch East India and West India companies. Across Asia, Africa, and the Americas, where the trading companies set up operation, Dutch ministers sought to convert pagans, Moors, Jews, and Catholics and to spread the cultural influence of Protestant Christianity. As Dutch ministers labored under the auspices of the trading companies, the missionary project coalesced, sometimes grudgingly but often readily, with empire building and mercantile capitalism. Simultaneously, Calvinism became entangled with societies around the world as encounters with Indigenous peoples shaped the development of European religious and intellectual history. Though historians have traditionally treated the Protestant and European expansion as unrelated developments, Charles H. Parker explores the global reach of Dutch Calvinism as an intermingling of a Protestant faith, commerce, and empire.

The Survival of Empire G. B. Souza, George Bryan Souza, 2004-07-08 In this original study of the Portuguese Empire in the East the Estado da India George Souza looks in detail at the activities of Macao His aim is to enquire into the nature of Portuguese society in China and the South China Sea and explain why the political and economic activities of the Portuguese crown did not inhibit the growth of local entrepreneurial trade He also examines the nature of Portuguese maritime trade in Asia and analyses the focal role of Macao as an adjunct to the Canton market The operations of Portuguese private merchants the so called country traders are described and tellingly assessed in the wider context of the economic development of China and Southeast Asia in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries

The Dutch Overseas Empire, 1600-1800 Pieter C. Emmer, Jos J.L. Gommans, 2020-10-15 This pioneering history of the Dutch Empire provides a new comprehensive overview of Dutch colonial expansion from a comparative and global perspective It also offers a fascinating window into the early modern societies of Asia Africa and the Americas through their interactions Dutch Colonialism and Indonesian Islam Karel A. Steenbrink, 2006 This book tells the story of the contacts and conflicts between muslims and christians in Southeast Asia during the Dutch colonial history from 1596 until 1950 The author draws from a great variety of sources to shed light on this period the letters of the colonial pioneer Jan Pietersz Coen the writings of 17th century Dutch theologians the minutes of the Batavia church council the contracts of the Dutch East India Company VOC with the sultans in the Indies documents from the files of colonial civil servants from the 19th and 20th centuries to mention just a few The colonial situation was not a good starting point for a religious dialogue With Dutch power on the increase there was even less understanding for the religion of the muslims In 1620 J P Coen the strait laced calvinist had actually a better understanding and respect for the muslims than the liberal colonial leaders from the early 20th century convinced as they were of western supremacy Colonial Empires Compared Bob Moore, Henk van Nierop, 2017-03-02

During the seventeenth century the Dutch and English emerged as the world's leading trading nations building their prosperity largely upon their maritime successes During this period both nations strongly contested for maritime supremacy and colonial dominance yet by the nineteenth century it was Britain who had undoubtedly come out on top of this struggle with a navy that dominated the seas and an empire of unparalleled size This volume examines the colonial development of these two nations at a crucial period in which the foundations for the modern nineteenth and twentieth century imperial state were laid The volume consists of ten essays five by British and five by Dutch scholars based on papers originally delivered to the Fourteenth Anglo Dutch Historical Conference 2000 The essays are arranged into five themes which take a strongly comparative approach to explore the development of the British and Dutch colonial empires in the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries These themes examine the nature of Anglo Dutch relations the culture of imperialism and perceptions of the overseas world the role of sea power in imperial expansion the economics of colonial expansion and the extension of the metropolitan state to the colonies Taken together these essays form an important collection which will greatly add to the understanding of the British and Dutch colonial empires and their relative successes and failures Sumatran Sultanate and

Colonial State Elsbeth Locher-Scholten, 2018-05-31 The first English translation of Professor Locher Scholten's 1994 Dutch text a study of the reaction to Dutch colonial expansion by the Sumatran sultanate of Jambi The Dutch text has been called an excellent teaching tool for work on the Netherlands imperial project Locher Scholten's extensive archive work in both Holland and Indonesia her explicit reference to secondary theoretical works and her useful lists mean that her analysis is transparent and accessible

Kraton and Kumpeni V.J.H. Houben, 2022-04-11 The Javanese realms of Surakarta and Yogyakarta in Central Java were of prime importance in the politics of the Netherlands Indies located as they were at the heart of the Dutch colonial state This book covers forty years of the history of the Javanese Principalities in the post Java War period 1830-1870 The first part deals with the delicate political balance that was constructed between each Javanese Kraton and the Dutch colonial state or Kumpeni Company as it was still called by the Javanese Attention is given not only to Dutch Javanese relations but also to the various interconnections between the Javanese princes themselves The second part is devoted to an in-depth analysis of the Javanese response to the new pressures imposed on them Finally this monograph offers a review of social and economic changes taking place in Central Java in the mid-nineteenth century largely as a result of the rise of private plantation enterprise after 1830

Semper Reformanda Barbara Pitkin, Günter Frank, Bruce Gordon, Barbara Mahlmann-Bauer, Tarald Rasmussen, Violet Soen, Zsombor Tóth, Günther Wassilowsky, Siegrid Westphal, David M. Whitford, 2018-02-19 The chapters in this volume contribute to recent scholarship exploring the reform of worship as a central feature of Protestant communities at their inception and through the ages Case studies ranging from sixteenth century Geneva and its environs to the early modern Netherlands and South Asia to nineteenth century America provide a corrective to traditional depictions of Reformed worship as a static sober interior and largely individual experience focused on the sermon The key moments in the broad stream of Reformed worship traditions analysed by an international team of experts yield collectively an image of the adaptive and negotiated character of worship attitudes and practices over time and in varied cultural settings The contributions examine the phenomenon of worship in broadly construed ways and from angles ranging from ritual studies liturgical innovation material culture and social impact A second red thread running through the volume concerns the material sensory emotional and experiential dimensions of Reformed religious culture Worship emerges as both a site of conflict and renewal in Reformed traditions inspiring not only confrontations and debates but also fruitful engagements that stimulated and continue to invite reflection on this critical category of Reformed faith traditions self understandings and cultural impact

Re-exploring the Links Jorge Manuel Flores, 2007 The island of Ceilao occupied a permanent and singular place in the political imagination of early modern Portugal Concurrently the Portuguese left a strong imprint in the Sri Lankan collective memory of the period Five centuries later a group of historians art historians anthropologists and linguists reflect on the multiple dimensions of this phenomenon by rethinking texts and maps ruined churches and ivory caskets oral tales and Creole communities Authored by 15 international scholars Re-exploring the Links is divided in four parts Political Realities and Cultural Imagination Religion Conflict and Interaction Space and Heritage Construction Representation Language and Ethnicity Identity and Memory While published on the occasion of the Portuguese arrival in Sri Lanka five centuries ago this book is far from being a celebratory piece Re-exploring the Links does not conform to nationalist models of historical interpretation and refuses both the rhetoric of discovery and the rhetoric of aggression The aim of the volume is not to celebrate encounters but to reinvent an academic debate independent of any political agenda and concerning a history that is Portuguese and Sri Lankan alike
