Increasing Student Engagement and Retention Using Multimedia Technologies Laura A. Wankel, Patrick Blessinger, 2013-03-25 Multimedia and video related technologies are reshaping and reframing the practice of teaching and learning in higher education This volume critically examines new research on how multimedia technologies are being used in higher education to increase learner engagement and collaboration in and out of the classroom

The Multilingual Instructor Claire Kramsch, Lihua Zhang, 2018-01-04 Claire Kramsch and Lihua Zhang use an ecological approach and a complexity thought model to examine the identities experiences and practices of foreign language teachers as native or non native speakers multilingual instructors and professional educators What is their sense of legitimacy How do they bridge the historical and cultural gaps between them and their students What stories do they share in the classroom Which do they not share How do they view their ethical responsibility Drawing on primary research with teachers at the college level in the US the book explores some of the key issues related to teaching languages in an era of increasing global mobility institutional control and educational uncertainty In this landmark publication Kramsch and Zhang show us the challenges facing the multilingual instructor and the importance of understanding their experiences in order to improve the quality of teaching and learning as transformative practices The ecological framework provides a very useful model for future studies while the attention to the ethical role of the multilingual instructor is a timely reminder to us all Li Wei Chair of Applied Linguistics UCL Institute of Education University College London Claire Kramsch is Emerita Professor of German and Professor of the Graduate School of Education at University of California Berkeley Lihua Zhang is Lecturer of Chinese and Chinese Language Program Coordinator at University of California Berkeley Oxford Applied Linguistics Series Advisers Anne Burns and Diane Larsen Freeman

Multiliteracy Play Chantelle Warner, 2024-03-07 This book proposes to expand multiliteracies frameworks in second language education by recognizing that learning a new language and culture involves both designs and desires the affects and emotions that feed our responses to particular ways of making meaning Over the past two decades multiliteracies approaches to second language education have brought attention to the diversity of modes media language varieties and discourses involved in what we often shorthand as language learning A core concept in these discussions is the idea of meaning design the idea that languages are dynamic culturally shaped systems of resources for engaging with and making sense of the world Building on these discussions and drawing inspiration and practical examples from a variety of modern language classes in higher education in the USA the book demonstrates how poetic and playful language can be embedded in multiliteracies pedagogy in ways that foster learners and teachers awareness of designs while also making space for desires that are harder to script or plan for In addition to building a conceptual map around poetics and play for researchers and teachers in language education the book offers concrete examples of what a multiliteracies approach emphasizing designs and desires can look like in classrooms and curricula

Regna and Gentes Hans-Werner Goetz, Jörg

Jarnut, Walter Pohl, 2003 This book is the first comprehensive and comparative study of the difficult relationship between ethnic identities and political organisation in the post Roman and early medieval kingdoms 16 authors historians archaeologists and linguists deal with ten important kingdoms of this period and with its political and legal context The Heirs of the Roman West Joachim Henning, 2009-05-05 In this collection leading international authorities analyse the structures and economic functions of non agrarian centres between ca 500 and 1000 A D their trade their surrounding settlements and the agricultural and cultural milieux The thirty one papers presented at an international conference held in Bad Homburg focus on recent archaeological discoveries in Central Europe Vol 1 as well as on those from southeastern Europe to Asia Minor Vol 2 The Two Eyes of the Earth Matthew P. Canepa, 2010-02-02 This pioneering study examines a pivotal period in the history of Europe and the Near East Spanning the ancient and medieval worlds it investigates the shared ideal of sacred kingship that emerged in the late Roman and Persian empires This shared ideal while often generating conflict during the four centuries of the empires coexistence 224 642 also drove exchange especially the means and methods Roman and Persian sovereigns used to project their notions of universal rule elaborate systems of ritual and their cultures visual architectural and urban environments Matthew Canepa explores the artistic ritual and ideological interactions between Rome and the Iranian world under the Sasanian dynasty the last great Persian dynasty before Islam He analyzes how these two hostile systems of sacred universal sovereignty not only coexisted but fostered cross cultural exchange and communication despite their undying rivalry Bridging the traditional divide between classical and Iranian history this book brings to life the dazzling courts of two global powers that deeply affected the cultures of medieval Europe Byzantium Islam South Asia and China Byzantium and the Avars, 6th-9th Century AD Georgios Kardaras, 2018-10-22 In this book Georgios Kardaras offers a global view of the contacts between the Byzantine Empire and the Avar Khaganate emphasizing the reconstruction of these contacts after 626 when in contrast to archaeological evidence written sources are very few and the definition of the possible channels of communication between the two powers The author scrutinizes the political and diplomatic framework and critically examines issues such as mutual influence on material culture and on warfare reaching the conclusion that significant contact between Byzantium and the Avars can be proved up until 775 Biotransformations in Organic Chemistry Kurt Faber, 2012-12-06 The use of natural catalysts enzymes for the transformation of non natural man made organic compounds is not at all new they have been used for more than one hundred years employed either as whole cells cell organelles or isolated enzymes 1 2 Certainly the object of most of the early research was totally different from that of the present day Thus the elucidation of biochemical pathways and enzyme mechanisms was the main reason for research some decades ago It was mainly during the 1980s that the enormous potential of applying natural catalysts to transform non natural organic compounds was recognized What started as a trend in the late 1970s could almost be called a fashion in synthetic organic chemistry in the 1990s Although the early euphoria during the gold rush in this field seems to have eased somewhat there is still no limit to be seen for the future development of such methods As a result of this extensive recent research there have been an estimated 13 000 papers published on the subject To collate these data as a kind of super review would clearly be an impossible task and furthermore such a hypothetical book would be unpalatable for the non expert 3 7 Educational Film/video Locator of the Consortium of University Film Centers and R.R. Bowker Consortium of University Film Centers,1986 Bioisosteres in Medicinal Chemistry Nathan Brown,2012-06-18 Written with the practicing medicinal chemist in mind this is the first modern handbook to systematically address the topic of bioisosterism As such it provides a ready reference on the principles and methods of bioisosteric replacement as a key tool in preclinical drug development The first part provides an overview of bioisosterism classical bioisosteres and typical molecular interactions that need to be considered while the second part describes a number of molecular databases as sources of bioisosteric identification and rationalization The third part covers the four key methodologies for bioisostere identification and replacement physicochemical properties topology shape and overlays of protein ligand crystal structures In the final part several real world examples of bioisosterism in drug discovery projects are discussed With its detailed descriptions of databases methods and real life case studies this is tailor made for busy industrial researchers with little time for reading while remaining easily accessible to novice drug developers due to its systematic structure and introductory section
