

A large, dark, irregularly shaped rock, resembling a meteorite, is suspended in the air. The rock has a rough, textured surface with some lighter-colored mineral inclusions. It is positioned in the upper half of the frame, dominating the sky. Below the rock, a paved road stretches from the bottom center towards the horizon. The landscape on either side of the road is flat and green, with distant mountains visible under a blue sky with scattered white clouds. The overall scene is surreal and dramatic.
