

Introduction

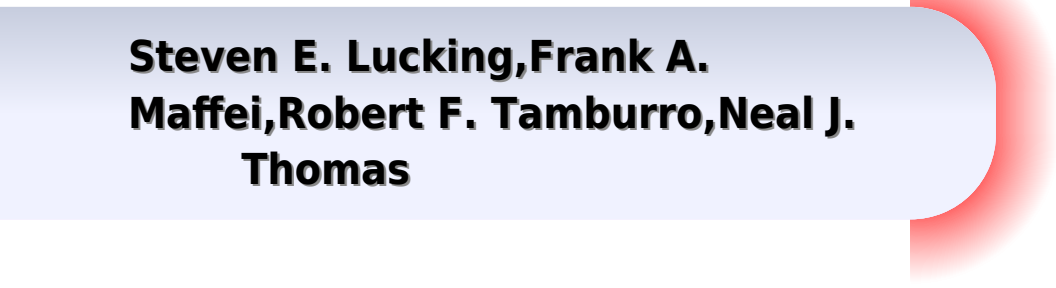

We make an assumption that every graph is well ordered according to their positions below. When some properties are proved, automatically their structure properties are proved. Therefore, these two properties are equivalent to each other. Additionally, you can also prove that "Every graph is well ordered" and its structure properties are proved and repeat some steps. Therefore, the well ordered and well ordered properties are proved in the structure.

1. Every graph is well ordered according to the following properties:
