Donelson, Alleen Pace Nilsen, 1997 With 140 fewer pages than the fourth edition the fifth obviously has been tightened it's partly in the format with narrower margins and less white space Otherwise some text has been rephrased or rearranged and topics for example adolescent psychology given shorter shrift Coverage of Holocaust literature has been expanded and discussion of problem novels improved Sports books have been dumped in with humor movies and other stuff including humorous poetry which it seems the authors feel is the only kind teens read for pleasure other types of poetry as well as short stories and drama are relegated to the English classroom coverage of which has been enlarged The chapter on sf and fantasy is good on historical aspects but weak on today's writers A short list of Internet listserves and Web sites has been incorporated as part of using YA literature in the library Once again updating of appendixes seems spotty Nevertheless this is useful as a resource for youth librarians and a tool for teaching YA literature Sally Estes Gay & Lesbian Literature: Introduction to gay male literature, 1994

poetics or the intensive production of embodied metaphor Alchemy here is viewed as an immanent set of metaphor driven best practices for indwelling complex and contradictory earthly matters in a sensual artistic and humane manner Or again it describes best psychotherapeutic practice Alchemy is read not as a medium for personal growth but optimal co existence with the natural world It is an eco logical rather than ego logical project with deep aesthetic concerns education of the senses in close noticing and political intentions a democracy of worldly things The book echoes post Freudian developments in psychoanalysis that avoid the mysticism of symbol systems to work rather with everyday signs and linguistic registers such as embodied metaphors keeping the focus on known and sensed phenomena rather than abstractions Congressional
