This book investigates civil society regionalization in Southern Africa The point of departure is the study of new regionalism which refers to the wave of regional integration globally since the 1980s However whilst the current regionalism studies undoubtedly contributes to a deeper understanding of regional processes important gaps remain in particular the relatively scant emphasis given to civil society This particularly relates to regions in the global South including Southern Africa The overarching aim of this book is therefore to analyse the dynamics of civil society regionalization in Southern Africa both empirically and from a theoretical perspective through analysing the cases of trade and HIV AIDS The study finds that CSOs can be more active in regional governance than has previously been conceptualized and are also highly active in terms of constructing regionalization through framing issues and to a less extent making identities regional Furthermore the book enhances knowledge of the heterogeneous nature of civil society regionalization Lastly it is demonstrated that going regional is only partly an autonomous process and also has to be understood as under the influence of the deeper statist and capitalist social structures marking the regional order in Southern Africa Political Handbook of the World 2020-2021 Tom

Regionalism in Africa Daniel C Bach,2015-12-22 Africa which was not long ago discarded as a hopeless and irrelevant region has become a new frontier for global trade investment and the conduct of international relations This book surveys the socio economic intellectual and security related dimensions of African regionalisms since the turn of the 20th century It argues that the continent deserves to be considered as a crucible for conceptualizing and contextualizing the ongoing influence of colonial policies the emergence of specific integration and security cultures the spread of cross border regionalisation processes at the expense of region building the interplay between territory space and trans state networks and the intrinsic ambivalence of global frontier narratives This is emphasized through the identification of distinctive threads of regionalism which by focusing on genealogies trajectories and ideals transcend the binary divide between old and new regionalisms In doing so the book opens new perspectives not only on Africa in international relations but also Africa s own international relations This text will be of key interest to students and scholars of African politics African history regionalism comparative regionalism and more broadly to international political economy international relations and global and regional governance

Postcolonial Legality: Law, Power and Politics in Zambia Jeremy Gould, 2023-03-24 This book interrogates the ideology and practices of liberal constitutionalism in the Zambian postcolony The analysis focuses on the residual political and governmental effects of an imperial form of power embodied in the person of the republican president termed here prerogativism Through systematic long term ethnographic engagement with Zambian constitutionalist activists lawyers judges and civic leaders the study examines how prerogativism has shaped the postcolonial political landscape and limited the possibilities of constitutional liberalism This is revealed in the ways that repeated efforts to reform the constitution have sidelined popular participation and thus failed to address the deep divide between a small elite stratum from which the constitutional activists are drawn and the marginalized masses of the population Along the way the study documents the intimate interpenetration of political and legal action and examines how prerogativism delimits the political engagements of elite actors Special attention is given to the reluctance of legal activists to engage with popular politics and to the conservative ethos that undermines efforts to pursue a jurisprudence of transformational constitutionalism in the findings of the Constitutional Court The work contributes to the rising interest in applying socio legal analysis to the statutory domain in postcolonial jurisdictions It offers a pioneering attempt to deconstruct the amorphous and ambivalent assemblage of ideas and practices related to constitutionalism through detailed ethnographic interrogation It will appeal to scholars students and practitioners with an interest in theorizing challenges to political liberalism in postcolonial contexts as well as in rethinking the methodological toolbox of socio legal analysis Official Airline Guide ,1981-07 Energy Research Abstracts ,1979 Includes all works deriving from DOE other related government sponsored information and foreign nonnuclear information
