A Physical Education Casey Johnston, 2025-05-06 From the most visible woman writing about weightlifting today a profoundly engrossing memoir and manifesto about how lifting helped dissolve her allegiance to diet culture taught her to be at home in her body and led her to grow every kind of strength Elizabeth Greenwood In A Physical Education Casey Johnston recounts how she ventured into the brave new world of weightlifting leaving behind years of restrictive eating and endless cardio Woven through the trajectory of how she rebuilt her strength and confidence is a staggering exposé of the damaging doctrine spread by diet and fitness culture Johnston's story dives deep into her own past relationships with calorie restriction exercise and codependency As she progresses on her weightlifting journey she begins to eat to fuel her growing strength and her food cravings vanish Her physical progress fuels a growing understanding of how mainstream messaging she received about women's bodies was about preserving the status quo Previously convinced that physical improvement was a matter of suffering she now knows it requires self regard and patience A little pushing at a time adds up to the reawakening of parts of herself she didn't even know were there A Physical Education asks why so many of us spend our lives trying to get healthy by actively making our bodies weaker Casey Johnston is a voice for those of us who feel underdeveloped and unfulfilled in our bodies and are looking to come home to ourselves

FemTech Lindsay Anne Balfour, 2023-12-23 This edited collection draws from cultural studies and Feminist Science and Technology Studies to offer a timely and exciting intervention into the growing field of women's digital health It explores the intersection of gender and embodied computing with particular attention to access barriers and the forms of biometric surveillance that operate in wearables ingestibles and embeddables marketed to women the industry generally known as FemTech While the most utilized and profitable FemTech products include ovulation and fitness trackers reproductive technologies contraceptive microchips and smart pills this only represents a fraction of health concerns affecting women This volume aims to explore FemTech within the context of Feminist Science and Technology Studies whereby the entanglements of race class gender ability sexuality and other social and cultural identities are brought to the fore By addressing the gaps in FemTech research and socio cultural barriers to access this volume critiques the forms of knowledge and experience produced through medical and cultural discourses regarding women's bodies to both highlight the inequalities in women's digital health and imagine alternative models which optimise technology for women in a way that is safe accessible and inclusive
