Authenticating Whiteness Rachel E. Dubrofsky,2022-11-29 In Authenticating Whiteness Karens Selfies and Pop Stars Rachel E Dubrofsky explores the idea that popular media implicitly portrays whiteness as credible trustworthy familiar and honest and that this portrayal is normalized and ubiquitous Whether on television film social media or in the news white people are constructed as believable and unrehearsed from the way they talk to how they look and act Dubrofsky argues that this way of making white people appear authentic is a strategy of whiteness requiring attentiveness to the context of white supremacy in which the presentations unfold The volume details how ideas about what is natural good and wholesome are reified in media showing how these values are implicitly racialized Additionally the project details how white women are presented as particularly authentic when they seem to lose agency by expressing affect through emotional and bodily displays The chapters examine a range of popular media newspaper articles about Donald J Trump a selfie taken at Auschwitz music videos by Miley Cyrus the television series UnREAL the infamous video of Amy Cooper calling the police on an innocent Black man and the documentary Miss Americana pinpointing patterns that cut across media to explore the implications for the larger culture in which they exist At its heart the book asks Who gets to be authentic And what are the implications

Kardashian Culture Ellis Cashmore, 2019-08-30 Using the royal family of celebrity culture the Kardashians as a lens through which to scrutinize early 21st century culture this book examines the worlds of business politics technology and entertainment to show how celebrity has fundamentally changed the way we live

Mother of Invention Katrine Marçal, 2021-10-19 An illuminating and maddening examination of how gender bias has skewed innovation technology and history now in paperback It all starts with a rolling suitcase Though the wheel was invented some 5 000 years ago and the suitcase in the 19th century it wasn't until the 1970s that someone successfully married the two What was the holdup For writer and journalist Katrine Marçal the answer is both shocking and simple because real men carried their bags no matter how heavy Mother of Invention is a fascinating and eye opening examination of business technology and innovation through a feminist lens Because it wasn't just the suitcase Drawing on examples from electric cars to tech billionaires Marçal shows how gender bias stifles the economy and holds us back delaying innovations sometimes by hundreds of years and distorting our understanding of our history While we talk about the Iron Age and the Bronze Age we might as well talk about the Ceramic Age or the Flax Age since these technologies were just as important But inventions associated with women are not considered to be technology in the same way as those associated with men Mother of Invention is a sweeping tour of the global economy with a powerful message If we upend our biases we can unleash our full potential
