original work      Canoe and Camp Cookery Seneca,2023-01-09 PREFACE A book in the writer s possession entitled Camp Cookery contains the following recipe Boiled Green Corn Boil twenty five minutes if very young and tender As it grows older it requires a longer time Send to the table in a napkin The writer of the above is a good housewife She cannot conceive that anybody will attempt to boil green corn who does not know such rudiments of the culinary art as the proper quantity of water to put into the pot and the necessity of its being slightly salted and at a boil when the corn is put in instead of fresh and cold and like the careful cook that she is she tells the camper to send the ears to the camp table in a napkin The faults of the above recipe are the faults of all recipes furnished by the majority of books on out door life They do not instruct in those rudimentary principles of cooking so important to the outer who has eaten all his life no food except that furnished him ready for instant despatch and they commend to the camper dishes that require materials and utensils for their preparation which are seldom at hand in the field and forest The object of this little volume is to give to the Corinthian cruiser and the camper some practical recipes for simple but substantial dishes in such a manner that the veriest novice in the art of the kitchen may prepare palatable food with no more materials and paraphernalia than are consistent with light cruising and comfortable camping The first part Canoe Cookery instructs in such dishes as the limited outfit of the canoeist or camper who packs his dunnage afoot will admit of while the second part Camp Cookery deals with the more elaborate menu that can be prepared when ease of transportation will allow the carriage of a more extensive supply Few of the recipes given are original with the compiler Some have been obtained from trappers and hunters others from army and navy cooks and a few from cook books but all have been practically tested in camp or on a cruise by the writer whose pleasure in out door cooking is only equalled by his delight in out door life      Canoe and Camp Cookery H H Soulé,2023-07-18 This classic cookbook features practical and delicious recipes for anyone undertaking a canoeing or camping trip Written by experienced outdoorsman H H Soul Canoe and Camp Cookery is filled with tips on food preparation and packing cooking equipment and more Whether you re a seasoned camper or a novice outdoor adventurer this book is an essential guide to making your wilderness experience both tasty and memorable This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations Within the United States you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work Scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public We appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant
