

Towing

WARNING: Never use two chains or rope to tow a car; your ability to safely control the car may be adversely affected.

We recommend the following:

Flat Bed Equipment—Tow a vehicle on a flat bed vehicle. This is the best way of transporting the car.

Wheel Lift Type Tow—Tow with the front wheels off the ground.

If the car can only be towed with the front wheels on the ground, make sure the transmission is in 2nd or 3rd Gear before. Do not tow with the transmission in neutral (N) and the ignition key in the off position.

CAUTION: To avoid serious damage on automatic transmission cars, first start the engine and shift to D4, then to R and shut the engine off. If the engine does not start, the transmission cannot be shifted while the engine is running. The car must be transported on flat bed equipment.

When towing the 2.7i with 4WSI even with the front wheels off the ground, center the steering and tie the steering wheel in place.

Check your regulations for towing.

CAUTION:

- Do not exceed 35 mph (55 km/h) or tow for distances of more than 30 miles (50 km).
- If a wing type tow is used, the tow truck driver should position speed spacer blocks between the car's frame and the chassis and lift straps to avoid damaging the bumper and the body.
- Do not use the bumpers to lift the car or to support the car's weight while towing.
