

7.16a Install the bolt . . .

18 Install the caliper mounting bolt, and tighten it to the torque setting specified at the beginning of the Chapter (see illustrations).

19 If removed, connect the brake hose to the caliper, using new sealing washers on each side of the fitting. Align the hose as noted on removal (see illustration 7.2). Tighten the banjo bolt to the torque setting specified at the beginning of the Chapter. Top up the master cylinder reservoir with DOT 4 brake fluid (see Daily (pre-ride) checks) and bleed the hydraulic system as described in Section 11.

20 Check for leaks and thoroughly test the operation of the rear brake before riding the motorcycle.

8 Rear brake disc – inspection, removal and installation

Inspection

1 Visually inspect the surface of the disc for score marks and other damage. Light scratches are normal after use and won't affect brake operation, but deep grooves and heavy score marks will reduce braking efficiency and accelerate pad wear. If a disc is badly grooved it must be machined or renewed.

2 To check disc runout, position the bike on an auxiliary stand and support it so that the wheel is raised off the ground. Mount a dial gauge on the swingarm, with the plunger on

8.3 The minimum disc thickness is marked on each disc

7.16b . . . and tighten it to the specified torque

the gauge touching the surface of the disc about 10 mm from the outer edge (see illustration 4.2). Rotate the wheel and watch the gauge needle, comparing the reading with the limit listed in the Specifications at the beginning of the Chapter. If the runout is greater than the service limit, check the wheel bearings for play (see Chapter 1). If the bearings are worn, renew them (see Section 16) and repeat this check. If the disc runout is still excessive, it will have to be renewed, although machining by an engineer may be possible.

3 The disc must not be machined or allowed to wear down to a thickness less than the service limit listed in this Chapter's Specifications and as marked on the disc itself (see illustration). The thickness of the disc can be checked with a micrometer (see illustration 4.3b). If the thickness of the disc is less than the service limit, it must be renewed.

Removal

4 Remove the rear wheel (see Section 15).

5 Mark the relationship of the disc to the hub, so it can be installed in the same position. Counter-bolt the disc bolts and unscrew the nuts, loosening them a little at a time in a criss-cross pattern to avoid distorting the disc, then withdraw the bolts and remove the disc from the wheel (see illustrations). On L, N and R models, discard the bolts as Honda specify new ones must be used. On J and K models, clean the threads of the bolts.

8.5a The disc is secured by three bolts (arrowed) on J and K models . . .

Installation

6 Install the disc on the hub, making sure the marked side is on the outside. Align the previously applied matchmarks (if you're reinstalling the original disc).

7 Install the bolts and tighten them in a criss-cross pattern evenly and progressively to the torque setting specified at the beginning of the Chapter. Note that on J and K models a suitable non-permanent thread locking compound must be applied to the bolt threads before installation, and on L, N and R models new bolts must be used.

8 Clean off all grease from the brake disc(s) using acetone or brake system cleaner. If a new brake disc has been installed, remove any protective coating from its working surfaces.

9 Install the rear wheel (see Section 15).

10 Operate the brake pedal several times to bring the pads into contact with the disc. Check the operation of the brake carefully before riding the bike.

9 Rear brake master cylinder – removal, overhaul and installation

1 If the master cylinder is leaking fluid, or if the lever does not produce a firm feel when the brake is applied, and bleeding the brake does not help (see Section 11), and the hydraulic hoses are all in good condition, then master cylinder overhaul is recommended.

2 Before disassembling the master cylinder, read through the entire procedure and make sure that you obtain all parts required. Also, you will need some new DOT 4 brake fluid, some clean rags and internal circlip pliers. Note: To prevent damage to the paint from spilled brake fluid, always cover the surrounding components when working on the master cylinder.

Caution: Disassembly, overhaul and reassembly of the brake master cylinder must be done in a spotlessly clean work area to avoid contamination and possible failure of the brake hydraulic system components.
