Multilingualism as a Resource and a Goal Marianne Turner, 2019-09-16 This book explores multilingualism as a resource and goal at school in contexts of student diversity and institutional monolingualism Combining translanguaging theory and sociocultural theory the author proposes a framework for the learning and use of both foreign and heritage languages across the curriculum in mainstream schools By clearly linking language practices to teaching and learning objectives the book aims to support school leaders and practitioners make informed decisions about how best to promote multilingualism in their school as well as to enhance the learning outcomes of bi multilinguals In addition to school leaders and practitioners it will be of interest to students and academics in the fields of bilingual education and TESOL as well as applied linguistics and language teaching more broadly

Social Identities and Multiple Selves in Foreign Language Education Damian J. Rivers, Stephanie Ann Houghton, 2013-07-18 Within foreign language education contexts across the globe inadequate attention has been paid to documenting the dynamics of identity development negotiation and management This book looks at these dynamics in specific relation to otherness in addition to attitudinal and behavioural overtones created through use of the term foreign despite its position as an integral marker in language acquisition discourse This book argues that individual identities are multidimensional constructs that gravitate around a hub of intricate social networks of multimodal intergroup interaction The chapters pursue a collective desire to move the notion of identity away from theoretical abstraction and toward the lived experiences of foreign language teachers and students While the identities entangled with these interactions owe a significant measure of their existence to the immediate social context they can also be actively developed by their holders The collection of chapters within this book demonstrate how foreign language education environments traditional and non traditional are ideal locations for the development of a sophisticated repertoire of discursive strategies used in the formulation navigation expression and management of social identities and multiple selves

Engaged Language Policy and Practices Kathryn A. Davis, Prem Phyak, 2016-12-08 Engaged Language Policy and Practices re envisions language policy and planning as an engaged approach drawing on and portraying theoretical and educational equity perspectives It calls for the right to language policy making in which all concerned communities parents students educators and advocates collectively imagine new strategies for resisting global neoliberal marginalization of home languages and cultural identities This book subsequently emphasizes the means by which engaged dialectic processes can inform and clarify language policy making decisions that promote equity In other words rather than descriptions of outcomes the authors emphasize the need to detail the means by which local regional actors resist and transform inequitable policies These descriptions of processes thereby provide all actors with ideological pedagogical and equity policy tools that can inform situated school and community policy making This book depicts ways in which engaged language policy embodies the intersection of critical inquiry participant involvement and ongoing engaged language planning processes It further offers an alternative to the traditional top down approach to language education policy making Engaged Language Policy and Practices is essential reading for scholars teachers students communities and others concerned with worldwide language and identity equity
