If This Be Treason Translation And Its Dyscontents A Memoir:

If this be Treason Gregory Rabassa, 2005 The long awaited memoir and meditation on the art of translating by the most acclaimed American translator of Latin American literature The Translator's Visibility Larisa Cercel, Alice Leal, 2025-05-05 This collection illuminates the epistemological and philosophical underpinnings of Lawrence Venuti's seminal The Translator's Invisibility extending these conversations through a contemporary lens of epistemic justice while also exploring its manifestations and transposing it to different disciplines and contexts The volume is divided into five parts The opening chapters provide contemporary foundations and a clear epistemological apparatus to conceptualise the debate on the translator's visibility and explore some of the philosophical underpinnings of the debate The following chapters offer analysis of some contemporary manifestations and illustrations of the translator's visibility among translators and translation thinkers and restage the debate in diverse contexts such as in European Union identity politics and Chinese Buddhist translation and disciplines such as film studies A final chapter takes stock of the impact of machine translation to critically reflect on the future of translation and translator studies This book will be of interest to students and scholars in translation and interpreting studies philosophy cultural studies and literary studies as well as the humanities more broadly The Routledge Handbook of Literary Translation Kelly Washbourne, Ben Van Wyke, 2018-10-10 The Routledge Handbook of Literary Translation provides an accessible diverse and extensive overview of literary translation today This next generation volume brings together principles case studies precepts histories and process knowledge from practitioners in sixteen different countries Divided into four parts the book covers many of literary translation's most pressing concerns today from teaching to theorising to translation techniques to new tools and resources Featuring genre studies in which graphic novels crime fiction and ethnopoetry have pride of place alongside classics and sacred texts The Routledge Handbook of Literary Translation represents a vital resource for students and researchers of both translation studies and comparative literature

The Cambridge Handbook of Translation Kirsten Malmkjær, 2022-03-17 Translation plays a vital role in society it allows us to share knowledge and enrich our lives through access to other cultures Translation studies is a rapidly evolving academic discipline directly impacted by advances in technological aids and with close connections between theory and practice Bringing together contributions from internationally renowned scholars this Handbook offers an authoritative up to date account of the many facets of this buoyant discipline It covers different themes areas of practice and developing trends and provides an overview of the major sub fields and the connections between them It is organised into six parts covering the nature of translation its roles in society its relationships with other disciplines a selection of its factual genres a selection of its art related genres and finally its role in history Comprehensive yet accessible it is essential reading for students teachers and scholars of translation studies modern languages linguistics social studies and literary studies Translation and Literary Studies Marella Feltrin-Morris, Deborah Folaron, Maria Constanza Guzmán, 2014-04-08 By nature a transdisciplinary area of inquiry translation lends itself to being investigated at its intersection with other fields of study Translation and Literary Studies seeks to highlight the manifold connections between translation and notions of gender dialectics agency philosophy and power The volume also offers a timely homage to renowned translation theorist Marilyn Gaddis Rose who was at the forefront of the group of scholars who initiated and helped to institutionalize translation studies Inspired by Gaddis Rose s work and particularly by her concept of stereoscopic reading the volume is dynamically complementary to the burgeoning contemporary field of global comparative literature underscoring the diversity of critical literary thought and theory worldwide Arranged thematically around questions of translation as literary and cultural criticism as epistemology and as poetics and politics and dealing with works within and beyond the Western tradition the essays in the volume illustrate the multi voiced spectrum of literary translation studies today

Sophisticated Giant Maxine

Gordon, 2020-09-15 Tenor saxophonist Dexter Gordon was one of the major innovators of modern jazz In a context of biography history and memoir Maxine Gordon has completed the book that her late husband began weaving his solo turns with her voice and a chorus of voices from past and present She shows that his image of the cool jazzman fails to come to terms with the three dimensional man full of humor and wisdom a figure who struggled to reconcile being both a creative outsider who broke the rules and a comforting insider who was a son father husband and world citizen

Secret Histories

Kathleen Diffley, Caroline Gebhard, Cheryl B. Torsney, 2025-03-15 The eighteen essays in this volume explore Constance Fenimore Woolson's prodigious range in period and genre as well as place from the Great Lakes to the defeated South and across storied Europe to the Mediterranean The whole of her professional life comes alive in this enlightening collection's triptych The first section A Writer's Experiments reveals that Woolson's play with familiar genres and unfamiliar characters began during the 1870s and extended until she died in 1894 Consistently she tested the limits of representing women's labor and their erotic desires The second section Postbellum Souths follows Woolson's travels through a land ravaged by war and injustice Drawing on theories of travel collective memory the Lost Cause religious controversy and a race bound region these essays expose both the smugness of visitors and the agendas of residents that Woolson was among the first postwar writers to portray The third section Through an International Lens considers expatriate perceptions of European and Mediterranean cultures as well as misconceptions about the Gilded Age United States Here and throughout this volume responses to Woolson's travel sketches mingle with assessments of her fiction and poetry while her encounters with the writing of other

Americans demonstrate how regularly Woolson made her century's literary terrain more subtle and complex Mo Yan in Context Angelica Duran, Yuhua Huang, 2014-11-01 In 2012 the Swedish Academy announced that Mo Yan had received the Nobel Prize in Literature for his work that with hallucinatory realism merges folk tales history and the contemporary The announcement marked the first time a resident of mainland China had ever received the award This is the first English language study of the Chinese writer's work and influence featuring essays from scholars in a range of disciplines from both China and the United States Its introduction twelve articles and epilogue aim to deepen and widen critical discussions of both a specific literary author and the globalization of Chinese literature more generally The book takes the root seeking movement with which Mo Yan's works are associated as a metaphor for its organizational structure The four articles of Part I Leaves focus on Mo Yan's works as world literature exploring the long shadow his works have cast globally Howard Goldblatt Mo Yan's English translator explores the difficulties and rewards of interpreting his work while subsequent articles cover issues such as censorship and the performativity associated with being a global author Part II Trunk explores the nativist core of Mo Yan's works Through careful comparative treatment of related historical events the five articles in this section show how specific literary works intermingle with China's national and international politics its mid twentieth century visual culture and its rich religious and literary conventions including humor The three articles in Part III Roots delve into the theoretical and practical extensions of Mo Yan's works uncovering the vibrant critical and cultural systems that ground Eastern and Western literatures and cultures Mo Yan in Context concludes with an epilogue by sociologist Fenggang Yang offering a personal and globally aware reflection on the recognition Mo Yan's works have received at this historical juncture

Life and Deeds of the Famous Gentleman Don Catrín de la Fachenda José Joaquín Fernández de Lizardi, 2021-11-01 Don Catrín de la Fachenda here translated into English for the first time is a picaresque novel by the Mexican writer José Joaquín Fernández de Lizardi 1776-1827 best known as the author of El Periquillo Sarniento The Itching Parrot often called the first Latin American novel Don Catrín is three things at once a rakish picaresque a catrín a dandy or fop and a criollo a person born in the New World and belonging to the same dominant class as their Spanish born parents but relegated to a secondary status The novel interrogates then current ideas about the supposed innateness of race and caste and plays with other aspects of the self considered more extrinsic such as appearance and social disguise While not directly mentioning the Mexican wars of independence Don Catrín offers a vivid representation of the political and social frictions that burst into violence around 1810 and gave birth to the independent countries of Latin America Shared Selves Suzanne Bost, 2019-09-30 Memoir typically places selfhood at the center Interestingly the genre's recent surge in popularity coincides with breakthroughs in scholarship focused on selfhood in a new way as an always renewing always emerging entity Suzanne Bost draws on feminist and posthumanist ideas to explore how three contemporary memoirists decenter the self Latinx writers John Rechy Aurora Levins Morales and Gloria E Anzaldá a work in places where personal history intertwines with communities environments animals plants and spirits This dedication to interconnectedness resonates with ideas in posthumanist theory while calling on indigenous worldviews As Bost argues our view of life itself expands if we look at how such frameworks interact with queer theory disability studies ecological thinking and other fields These webs of relation in turn mediate experience agency and lift itself A transformative application of posthumanist ideas to Latinx feminist and literary studies Shared Selves shows how memoir can encourage readers to think more broadly and deeply about what counts as human life
