2004-2005 Guide to Educational Credit by Examination Jo Ann Robinson, Troy Polite, Nancy Musick, 2004      2001 Guide to Educational Credit by Examination Jo Ann Robinson, Jacqueline E. Taylor, 2001      A Functional Approach to the Legal Review of Autonomous Weapon Systems Damian Copeland, 2024-10-21 Autonomous Weapon Systems AWS are no longer limited to science fiction Conflicts in the Ukraine and Gaza demonstrate an increased trend toward the use of autonomy in the use of force in armed conflict This book analyses the art 36 legal review obligation and assesses how states can determine the legality of AWS It proposes a new functional approach to legal review that considers both weapons law and targeting rules engaged by the autonomous functionality      A Guide to AHP Credentialing Beverly E. Pybus, Carol S. Cairns, 2004      International Law and Weapons Review Natalia Jevglevskaja, 2021-12-16 International law requires that before any new weapon is developed purchased or modified the legality of its use must be determined This book offers the first comprehensive and systemic analysis of the law mandating such assessments Article 36 of the 1977 Additional Protocol I to the Geneva Conventions Underpinned by empirical research the book explores the challenges the weapons review authorities are facing when examining emerging military technology such as autonomous weapons systems and autonomous cyber capabilities It argues that Article 36 is sufficiently broad to cover a wide range of military systems and offers States the necessary flexibility to adopt a process that best suits their organisational demands While sending a clear signal that law should not simply follow technological developments but rather steer them the provision has its limits however which are shaped and defined by the interpretative decisions made by States      Forensic Science Douglas H. Ubelaker, 2012-09-10 FORENSIC SCIENCE Forensic Science Current Issues Future Directions presents a comprehensive international discussion of key issues within the forensic sciences Written by accomplished and respected specialists in distinct areas of the forensic sciences this volume examines central issues within each discipline provides perspective on current debate and explores current and proposed research initiatives The forensic sciences represent dynamic and evolving fields presenting new challenges to a rapidly expanding cohort of international practitioners This book acquaints readers with the complex issues involved and how they are being addressed The academic treatment by experts in the fields ensures comprehensive and thorough understanding of these issues and paves the way for future research and progress Draws on the knowledge and expertise of the prestigious American Academy of Forensic Sciences Written by key experts in the diverse disciplines of forensic science An international approach Each chapter carefully integrated throughout with key themes and issues covered in detail Includes discussion of future directions of forensic science as a discipline      The Oxford Guide to International Humanitarian Law Ben Saul, Dapo Akande, 2020 This Guide provides a broad authoritative overview of the field of international humanitarian law Highlighting both practice and doctrine it is written by a team of expert academics and practitioners      Advances in Forensic Human Identification Xanthe Mallett, Teri Blythe, Rachel Berry, 2014-01-24 As forensic human identification receives increased global attention practitioners policy makers and students need an appropriate resource that describes current methods and modalities that have shaped today's policies and protocols A supplemental follow up to Forensic Human Identification An Introduction Advances in Forensic Human Identification covers advances in the most well known scientific techniques and discusses new and developing subjects and modalities of human identification A collection of contributions from worldwide experts the book embraces a broad context and looks at several issues beyond physical identification of human remains or offenders The book examines online sexual and biometric identities and discusses problems associated with investigative practice such as the developing use of the Internet as a distribution and communication medium for criminal activities It also explores miscarriages of justice that can result from flawed applications or interpretations of forensic evidence Finally it looks at the future of forensic science in the United Kingdom in light of financial challenges and the closure of the Forensic Science Service Where appropriate case studies illustrate the use of techniques and the associated problems described in the text The downloadable resources include images in full color This volume provides an important contribution to the ongoing practitioner and academic debates surrounding the application of forensic technologies The insight presented is destined to springboard further inquiry into enhanced techniques and underlies the need for more research into the appropriate use of identification techniques to solve the mysteries of the unknown

A Guide to International Disarmament Law Stuart Casey-Maslen, Tobias Vestner, 2019-05-24 Disarmament is integral to the safeguarding and promotion of security development and human rights Hundreds of millions of dollars are spent each year on disarmament operations yet no comprehensive guide exists to explain clearly the international rules governing disarmament This book seeks to fill that gap It describes the international legal rules that govern disarmament and the operational political and technical considerations that govern their implementation This book aims to support compliance implementation and further development of international disarmament law Traditionally disarmament focused on weapons of mass destruction This remains a critically important area of work In recent decades the scope of disarmament has broadened to encompass also conventional weapons including through the adoption of rules and regulations to govern arms transfers and measures to eliminate specific munitions from stockpiles and to destroy explosive remnants of war There have also been four generations of programmes to address small arms and light weapons at national or sub national level through disarmament demobilisation and reintegration DDR programmes during and following the end of armed conflict While an internationally accepted definition of disarmament does not yet exist it is widely agreed that disarmament encompasses or interrelates with prohibitions and restrictions on the development production stockpiling testing and transfer of weapons and on their destruction In addition to clarifying these elements chapters of this guide will also consider the relationship between disarmament and the law of armed conflict and with the United Nations Security Council human security public health and non state actors

The Conduct of Hostilities under the Law of International Armed Conflict Yoram

Dinstein, 2016-04-04 Written by the leading commentator on the subject this is the seminal textbook on the law of international armed conflict Focusing on recent issues arising in the course of hostilities between States it explores the dividing line between lawful and unlawful combatants the meaning of war crimes and command responsibility the range of prohibited weapons the distinction between combatants and civilians the parameters of targeting and proportionality the loss of protection from attack including direct participation in hostilities and special protection granted pre eminently to the environment and to cultural property In a completely revised and updated text the author expertly covers the key principles and includes important new issues including the use of autonomous weapons and the complexities of urban warfare The subtleties and nuances of the international law of armed conflict are made accessible to the student and practitioner alike whilst retaining the academic rigour of previous editions Non-Binding Norms in International Humanitarian Law Emily Crawford, 2021-12-23 This monograph examines and analyses the phenomenon of non binding instruments also known as soft law in the law of armed conflict or international humanitarian law In the past 30 years there have been several non binding instruments created designed as either best practice guidelines or re statements of applicable law These instruments are not treaties but they nevertheless put themselves forward as authoritative statements of what the law is and in some instances what the law should be Soft law instruments can be dynamic prompt and responsive measures to address pressing issues in armed conflicts By drawing on the skill of a small group of experts these instruments can be debated and drafted in a timelier manner than if these issues were to be left to the international community of 194 States to resolve Furthermore because these instruments do not have to be sent for debate to an international conference of States it means that the provisions are not subject to the usual revisions reservations and dilutions that come with attempting to reach consensus However there are potential and actual problems with these instruments and the processes that bring them to fruition and how they are received in practice by States and other stakeholders This volume looks at the benefits and drawbacks for States and non State actors with regards to soft law whether they are effective additions to the law of armed conflict analysing the development through the lens of theories of legitimacy and legality in international law Baldwin's Ohio Monthly Record, 2000 Rules of state administrative agencies In full text with tables and index including chart of proposed rules with time and location of public hearings The National Guide to Educational Credit for Training Programs 2002 (Ace) American Council on Education, American Council on Education, 2005 For over 25 years this guide has been the trusted source of information on over 6 000 educational programs offered by business labor unions schools training suppliers professional and voluntary associations and government agencies These programs provide educational credit to students for learning acquired in noncollegiate settings Each entry in the comprehensive National Guide provides BL Course title as assigned by the participating organization BL Location of all sites where the course is offered BL Duration in contact hours and days or weeks BL The period during which the credit recommendation applies BL The purpose for which the course was
