

If the Earth were only a few feet in diameter...

by Joe Miller

If the Earth were only a few feet in diameter, floating a few feet above a field somewhere, people would come from everywhere to marvel at it. People would walk around it marvelling at its big pools of water, its little pools, and the water flowing between. People would marvel at the bumps on it and the holes in it. They would marvel at the very thin layer of gas surrounding it and the water suspended in the gas. The people would marvel at all the creatures walking around the surface of the ball and at the creatures in the water. The people would declare it as sacred because it was the only one, and they would protect it so that it would not be hurt. The ball would be the greatest wonder known, and people would come to it to be healed, to gain knowledge, to know beauty, and to wonder how it could be. People would love it and defend it with their lives because they would somehow know that their lives could be nothing without it. If the Earth were only a few feet in diameter.

Ceremony of Innocence Kay Carmichael, 2016-07-27 What use are tears What is their purpose In this original and disturbing book Kay Carmichael argues that we underestimate the importance of this powerful means of communication Tears are dismissed as a symbol of weakness when we should value them as a source of energy and creativity In vivid case histories based on original research she shows how why when and where human beings cry and the barriers placed in their way Hope and the Nearness of God Teresa White, 2021-12-09 A reflection on the meaning and quality of Hope for the period of Lent and beyond In these days of pandemic war and political turbulence hope can seem to be in short supply But hope is one of the theological virtues and it is far more profound than mere optimism Today pessimism and despair seem all too prevalent What can we do about the poor and starving about those who seem to be locked in interminable conflict and families weighed down by the consequences of breakdown Sister Teresa White's book is an antidote to all this and it is written with beautiful simplicity and directness There is no hiding behind complicated or technical language In one of the most forceful chapters in the book the author shows how hope breeds courage and courage breeds hope But hope is not a matter of wishful thinking Drawing on St Augustine the author shows moreover that hope has two essential components Not just courage but anger as well The expression of our anger can lead to greater clarity with our discernment and spiritual perception Hope too can lead us to understand God's solidarity with us in times of sorrow and struggle Teresa White in this Lent Book draws on inspiration from writers as diverse as Julian of Norwich and Karl Rahner Elizabeth Barrett Browning and Henri Nouwen but throughout the book there is strong scriptural underpinning which the author uses to great effect
